

Welcome to Insider for Head First JavaScript Programming!

We're glad you're here. Now that you've handed over your hard-earned cash, here's what you need to do. That's right, we're jumping right in...

Cut this out and stick it on your refrigerator.

① Everything happens in the forum, so head over and register. Feel free to say hi.

Point your browser to <http://wickedlysmart.com/inforum/>. Click on “Register” and sign up. After you do that you'll have access to the Insider forum.

② Download the Introduction.

Grab it (<http://wickedlysmart.com/inforum/index.php?board=2.0>) and take a look. It explains what to expect, and not expect from this book, and if you haven't read a Head First book before, it takes you through our philosophy (it's interesting, we promise). Finally, if you're interested in participating in this book, check out the last page.

③ Go straight to Chapter One.

In the forum (<http://wickedlysmart.com/inforum/index.php?board=2.0>) you'll find a video introduction and a draft of Chapter 1. Sit back, watch the video, and then make a first pass through the chapter.

④ Communicate.

The forum is there for you to give feedback, ask questions or discuss topics in the book. Chances are, if you have a question, so do a bunch of other folks. And, if you ask your question, we'll know there's an area of the book that might need more work. Also, don't forget to introduce yourself! (<http://wickedlysmart.com/inforum/index.php?board=1.0>)

Before you REALLY get started, it's worth taking a second to think through a special project you'd really like to tackle, once you know some JavaScript. That's right we said “some JavaScript,” because having a project you're passionate about is the best way to power through learning a programming language; it keeps you motivated even when things get rough.

Jot down a special project you'd like to get started with your JavaScript skills.
